Complete Reliability
to Keep You Connected

Complete Reliability with Automatic 4G Wireless Backup

When you run a business, you need a strong, reliable connection to keep moving forward. When you're not connected, it's disruptive to your business. No business likes downtime — that's why Comcast Business is the first broadband provider to offer an automatic 4G LTE wireless backup connection and 6-hours of battery backup. If internet connection is lost, it automatically kicks in with the stronger of two redundant wireless networks, powering business functions like point of sale, cloud applications, back office connections and email until full connectivity can be restored. That's the power of complete reliability.
